

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

We are still holding our personal invitation to the $500 per plate inaugural reception scheduled for some time later this month in Montgomery. We don't have intentions to attend, so if anyone... anyone at all, wants to use them it is first come, first served. Now don't misunderstand, we are not up set at the $500 price tag. We wouldn't attend if it were free! We have not set to those things, and except for a few family members and very close friends, the others who attend seem to be there for what they can get out of the politician for old number one.

1991 starts off well in Elba, Alabama. Work has started on the new school park, the Industrial Board is working to get a new industry, the public library should be back in a building within weeks, and the Water and Electric Board is reviewing the water system with plans to bring the entire system up to standards. The catch is that all this will cost a bunch of money. The water system work alone could cost one million dollars! The school, its roads and utilities will cost a bunch more. We just hope there are some deep pockets somewhere.

Recycling is to be one of the catchwords of the 90's. The problems created by our throw-away society are forcing us to find ways to do something other than dumping it into the garbage. A project that caught on real big in many places this year was recycling of Christmas trees. Locally there were no chipper set up to prepare them for mulch, but there was something we could have done. We saw where one community gathered the old trees and turned them over to lake owners for use in the water as hiding places for little fish. Having been known to wet a hook occasionally, we know the true benefit of this undertaking... at least to the fishermen. It is a good idea and we hope area residents will do the same thing next year.

Alabama schools are being forced into proration... again. Part of the blame is placed on slow corporate income taxes, but most of the problem is because the legislature approved more spending than the income would support. It helps re-election efforts to give everyone what they want, but they should remember there is a hereafter... even for elected officials.

We didn't watch a single football game on New Year's Day or in fact during the entire bowl season. We just didn't care. We tried some January 1st night games but it was halftime and the two games on at the time just were not interesting. This marks the first year in a long time that we didn't see New Year's Day with a funny feeling in the head and eyes which don't focus very well, all from watching football from morning until late night.

The national unemployment rate was officially at 6.1% as 1990 closed. The experts are working overtime in predicting what the future holds. If you want to believe the economy will get better or if you feel it will get worse, there is an expert out there to agree with you. However the real truth is nobody really knows!

Six Iraqi helicopters apparently defected to Saudi Arabia on Monday. We say apparently because the Iraqi News Agency is quoted as saying this is "an attempt by the United States to create confusion and the wishful thinking of the losers cooperating with it". That is pretty smooth talk by folks we have painted as backward, stupid, etc.

The Alabama Mothers Association has announced guidelines for its annual state-wide Literature Competitions and has set February 1 as the deadline for submitting manuscripts of poetry, short story, essay or article.

Any mother in Alabama is eligible to enter the contest, which is sponsored by American Mothers, Inc. (R) as a part of its long established, nation-wide Gertrude Fogelson Cultural and Creative Arts Program.

Winning entries in the Alabama competition will be submitted to be judged in the National Literature Competitions of American Mothers, Inc. (R). Cash prizes will be awarded to national winners.

Lucella B. Henderson of Enterprise, State Literature Chairman of the Alabama Mothers Association, points out that this writing contest for mothers "emphasizes that literature is belles-lettres (fine literature). Further, that literature is imaginative or creative and regarded for its aesthetic value as well as its informative content."

The content of each manuscript should be related to the purpose of American Mothers, Inc., "to strengthen the moral and spiritual foundations of the home and family." The subject of each entry must be centered around the interpretation of a moral or spiritual value or an interesting concept of the American home.

An entry fee of $10.00 (check made payable to American Mothers, Inc. (R)) must accompany each manuscript submitted.

Categories and regulations are: Poetry, one poem, traditional or free verse, not more than 100 lines; Short story, one story of 2500 words

Scottish Wedding Unites Forbes And Berry

Candace Berry and Nelson Lyles Forbes were united in marriage at six o'clock in the evening on December 15, 1990 at First Baptist Church, Elba, AL. Dr. J. Douglas Dorch, Jr., Minister of the First Baptist Church, and Dr. Joseph A. Slane of Southminster Presbyterian Church, Vestavia Hills, performed the double ring Scottish candlelight ceremony.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harold Berry of Elba and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Harley Forbes of Birmingham, Alabama. The wedding was directed by Mrs. Rex Killingsworth of Jack, Alabama, a friend of the bride.

The church entrance featured Christmas wreaths adorned with poinsettias and bows. Natural greenery, white pillar candles, and white iridescent bows filled the windows of the sanctuary. Pew markers were noble fir tips, white pillar candles, variegated holly, and white iridescent bows.

Accented the choir modest railing, and the piano and organ railing were mixed Christmas greenery garlands interspersed with miniature Italian lights. The corners of the railing were caught with white iridescent ribbons and glittered white bells.

A Christmas greenery wreath with Italian lights centered the baptismal wall. Two fifteen foot Christmas trees with Italian lights marked the sides of the choir area as full-blown white poinsettias cascaded from the baptismal window to the communion table which held the Lord's Supper elements and two single white candles in brass candlesticks. Serving as a background, the cascade of poinsettias were three brass candle trees in a pyramid form.

The registry table, located on the front steps of the church, was covered with a black satin cloth over ivory satin skirting. An arrangement of call lilies, dendrobium orchids, white roses, Star of Bethlehem, and Christmas greenery with Princess and Royal Banquet orchids complemented the table. Miss Tiffany Harper of Tusculooa served as program attendant and registered the guests at the wedding.

At 5:15 p.m. the Scottish Highland Pipers, James Wright and James Wright, Jr. of Pinson, Alabama provided bagpipe music on the front steps of the church announcing the marriage of Candace and Lyles. The Pipers were dressed in the McIntyre Hunting Kilts.

The grandparents of the bride and groom were seated by their grandsons Kim Berry and Mallory Forbes. The bride's maternal grandmother is Mrs. Hollis Carr and her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Lewis C. Berry. The groom's maternal grandmother is Mrs. James D. Lyles of Albertville, Alabama and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. French Forbes of Birmingham, Alabama.

At half past the hour, W. Martin Gray, Jr., organist, Mrs. Fred K. Ham, pianist, and the handbell choir composed of Mrs. Mickey Murdock, Mrs. Bobby Baker, Mrs. Jeff K. Ham, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brunson, Mrs. Bill Brunson, Mrs. Mike Camley, Mrs. John Crowe and Mrs. Robert Robertson entertained the wedding guests with a program of prelude music: "Noel X Grand Jew Duo" by Daquin; "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee" by Beethoven; "In Dulci Jubilo" by Dupre; "Sheep May Safely Graze" by J.S. Bach; "Cantata of the Bell" by Leontovich; "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" by Luther; and "Sleepers, Awake" by J.S. Bach.

The chiming announced the six o'clock wedding hour. Dr. Lance K. Dyess, vocalist, sang "Surely The Presence of The Lord Is In This Place" by Wolfe as the mothers were seated by their sons Kim Berry and Mallory Forbes. The mother of the bride chose a teal length ice blue Patina original of French Crepe Georgette accented with silk venise lace overlay bodice with long sleeves. She wore a corsage of white orchids. The groom's mother selected a dark green velvet trimmed in the silk Forbes dress train.

Serving as best man was Nelson Harley Forbes, father of the groom. He was dressed in the Dress Forbes tartan kilt with Prince Charlie Jacket. The groom wore the Ancient Forbes tartan kilt with a Prince Charlie Jacket.

Proceeding the processional, the Scottish Highland Pipers piped in playing the "Skye Boat Song" by W. Martin Gray, Jr., organist, and Mrs. Fred K. Ham, pianist, played "Hornpipe" from Water-Music by Handel for the processional.

The groomsmen were After Six black tux with ivory shirts and the Forbes tartan cummerbund and bowtie. Accented the tuxedo jacket were white rose bud boutonnieres. The groomsmen were Kim Berry, brother of the bride, Jonathan J. Bunch of Fairhope, Edward J. Doyle of Fort Walton Beach, Florida, Mallory H. Forbes, brother of the groom of Birmingham, Jeffrey T. Mitchell of Birmingham, Jack J. Snyder of Birmingham, David W. Ziehl of Lansing, Illinois, and Timothy G. Zinn of New Martinsville, West Virginia.

The bridesmaids wore black long straight skirts of Moray taffeta and ivory organza blouses. Each attendant wore a Forbes tartan draped over the right shoulder. A Scottish brooch accented the drapes. They carried clusters of dendrobium orchids handied with ivory velvet ribbons. Bridesmaids were Amy S. Curran of Birmingham; Leslie J. Horn of White of Panama City Beach, Florida; Wendy B. Worland of Knoxville, Tennessee; Trudi G. Zehr of Lansing, Illinois; and junior bridesmaid Julie E. Roberson of Elba, Alabama. Miss Francis Waldrop of Birmingham, Alabama served as maid of honor.

Candace entered the church on the arm of her father, Edward Harold Berry, as the organ and piano played a selection from Water Music. She wore a gown designed by Madeline for Mort Lee. The elegant gown of candlelight satin and beaded alencon lace had a high illusion neckline and fitted bodice encrusted with pearls and iridescent sequins. Lord sleeves with a shoulder Paul and an array of hanging beads complemented the straight skirt with a mermaid accent. The attached train was a semi-cathedral train adorned with cut outs of lace, beads and pearls. Complementing the gown was a cap style veil covered in matching ivory satin. Delicately accentuating the alencon lace were pearls, iridescent sequins and rhinestones. The Puff was studded with pearls and a rolled edge hem. Completing the back of the veil was a full three-yard-wide English illusion double layer with a rolled edge hem. Candace carried a free cascade of dendrobium orchids, Star of Bethlehem, white roses, Royal Banquet and Princess orchids, call lilies, and noble fir tips.

Dr. Joseph A. Slane directed the call to worship, the chanting and prayer prior to the parents blessings. He then issued the declaration of intent and read scriptures selected by the couple. After the homily, the couple exchanged their vows and rings.

Dr. J. Douglas Dorch, Jr. directed church-wide communion. As the bread was broken and passed to the guests, Dr. Lance K. Dyess, sang "Panis Angelicus" by Franck. Following the drinking of the cup, he sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Mallory. The bride and groom knelt in reverence on the prayer bench during the communion service. Assisting in the communion service were Mrs. Judith Tucker, Mrs. Henry Davis, Mrs. Terry Calhoun, Mrs. Charles Pearce, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. James C. Morrow, Mrs. Robert R. Roberson, Mr. James C. Rhoades, Mr. W.M. Moore and Mr. Charles C. Morrow, all of whom are friends of the bride and groom.

After the pronouncement of marriage was given by Dr. Joseph A. Slane, the groom draped his bride with the Forbes tartan shawl.

After the benediction, the Pipers playing "Scotland The Brave" led the couple from the sanctuary. The organist and pianist played "Prelude in G Major" by J.S. Bach for the recessional of the parents of the bride and groom, and attendants. As the bride and groom were escorted from the sanctuary, the organist and Pipers played "Amazing Grace".

Following the wedding, a reception was hosted by the bride's parents in the fellowship hall of the church. Hurricane lamps draped with ivory bows and ribbons flanked the entrance walkway to the fellowship hall. Pipers entertained at the entrance to the reception. The reception area was centered with an undelighted table of black satin cloths swagged over ivory satin skirting and silver candles with burning ivory tapers.

The bride's cake was three tiers of vanilla layers with a praline and cream filling between the layers of the ivory on white petal shaped cake. Accented the wedding cake were dendrobium orchids, white roses, calla lilies, Star of Bethlehem, Christmas greenery with Princess and Royal Banquet orchids. The cake were supported in a circular pattern on the ivory satin clothed round table with acrylic cake stands giving the illusion that the cake was rising from the bed of Christmas bows of noble fir tips and matching floral designs. The bride's bouquet completed this illusion.

The groom's table was accented with the Forbes plaid woolen runners which were gathered above the two-tiered chocolate and cream delectable hexagonal-shaped cake. Fresh strawberries, variegated holly, and Christmas greenery adorned the cakes and the wooden plaid as it swirled around the confection.

The couple left the reception for a honeymoon trip to Keyl Island and points of interest in Maine and Massachusetts.

PASTOR'S CORNER
Danny Maddox
Whitewater Baptist Church

Throughout 1991 let's claim the promise, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" (Romans 8:31). The wonderful truth of this promise is that God is with us!

No person or thing can ultimately win over the Christian. In the courtroom of life, we may lose some arguments, but we will win the case. In the skirmishes of life, we may lose some battles, BUT because of Jesus Christ we will win the war!

The reason for that confidence is not found in ourselves or our circumstances. We will win because Jesus loves us and because God is for us. We will win because Jesus came. He lived for us, ministered and healed us, gave His life forever to guarantee us victory and eternal life.

You may say, "How can I be sure God is for me?" Because His word, The Bible, says so. Because Godly parents and friends say so. Many have found that they can trust God to act for their good, and you can trust Him to act for your good also.

You can prove it by your own experience. If you will turn to the Lord in faith and trust Him with your life, you will be saved for time and eternity. Your whole outlook on life will be changed, and you will be able to say with confidence, "God really is for me!"

First Baptist To Host Harpsichordist

On Sunday Morning, January 13th, the First Baptist Church will host Dr. John Paul, harpsichordist from Jackson, Mississippi. Dr. Paul will play a 15 minute program at 10:00 a.m. prior to the eleven o'clock worship hour. He will also accompany the Chancel Choir for the morning anthem, "Alleluia" by J.S. Bach.

We are always looking for ways to enhance our worship experience. The harpsichord is a wonderful instrument to which we get little exposure. It will add a refreshing dimension to our worship," says Mart Gray, minister of music.

Paul was born in Lyme Regis, England at the Royal Academy of Church Music in London. He also holds a doctorate from the University of Colorado. He has served as the organist and choir director of St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Jackson, Mississippi since 1965.

Mr. Paul is in town for a series of programs sponsored by the Coffee County Arts Alliance. Two programs are scheduled for Monday morning program for school children and a formal concert on Monday evening. Both programs will take place in the church sanctuary. Tickets are available at The Jewel Box in Elba.

E.H.S. Players Prepare

by Crystal Carpenter
The EHS Players are presenting a play entitled Chaparral by the Doorn. Last year's production was The Wizard of Oz and the group of young people worked extremely hard. Even through the difficult times after the flood, they managed to produce a wonderful, exciting, and thrilling play.
This year's play, Chaparral by the Doorn, is a comedy based on the book by Frank Gilbreth and Ernestine Gilbreth.

Carey. Suppose you're an attractive high school girl and you're not only a member of a large and unique family, but your father is, in fact, one of the great pioneers of industrial efficiency. Then suppose he decides for no apparent reason to apply his unorthodox methods to you and to the rest of your big family. The results are terribly embarrassing, wildly funny and... it must be admitted... extremely effective.

A New Look.

by Jim Goodson
As you have seen, recently our town has had a few new additions to it. The outer limits of our city have been re-decorated with brand new welcome signs.

Since many people in our town showed dislike for the signs, the Chamber of Commerce made the decision to replace them. They made preparations with Williams Signs of Elba to construct the new signs. Mrs. Jean Kennett of the Chamber of Commerce said that Mr. Herold Williams of Elba designed, built and painted the new signs. The signs depict the flowing well, veterans memorial, the courthouse and our town as a whole. Printed on them is the phrase, "A New Look - A Greater Future". The new welcome signs should be accepted and liked far better than the old ones. Thank you, Williams Signs of Elba for a well done job and Mrs. Jean Kennett for the helpful information.

Agriculture And The FFA

by Elena Strong
On November 29, Coach Harrelson's eighth grade agricultural students watched a video about agriculture. The video showed people with jobs that are related to agriculture. The people included a farmer, scientist, engineer, legislator, and marketer. The video taught everyone that agriculture is more than just farming. It involves a multitude of jobs that require much talent.
The Elba High School FFA is a club that is open to all members about agriculture. The Elba FFA chapter is made up of males and females from grades eight through twelve. The club teaches its members to carry out the message illustrated by the video. It is a great organization to join and will help members during the present time, as well as the future.

Senior Beta Club's Christmas Party

by Anita Wallace
On Wednesday, December 12, 1990, Senior Beta Club held its annual Christmas party. Included among the activities was the initiation of the new members. The ceremony consisted of the officers presenting them with their certificates and pins. Following the initiation, all members enjoyed refreshments.

The new members this year are: Amy Baker, Misty Boland, Annette Brooks, Kevin Bryan, Grant Coleman, Leah Crowe, Kevin Dewberry, Laura Hall, Lakia Hammond, Joe Jacobs, Alan Robinson, Mandy Shirley, Chad Smith, Heather Simon, Jake Stokes, Emily Strong, Jamie Bass, Patrease Pruitt, and Melissa Maddox.

The Senior Beta Club is for students who maintain an A-B average or higher. The purpose of the club is to encourage effort and merit among members. It is sponsored by Mrs. Judy Killinsworth and Judith Tucker.

Run, Shoot & Win
by Juan Carpenter
Day by day, game by game, the Elba Junior High Tigers are continuing to prove that they are a force to be reckoned with. The Junior Tigers, who are coached by Coach Phillips, have a run and shoot type offense. The Junior Tigers are currently undefeated, with a 10-0 record. The members of this undefeated team are David Vellerton, Perry Stinson, Keith Grantham, Will Magwood, Tony Hooks, Josh Caldwell, Richard Kyle, Jason Holley, Scott Cochran, Tony Parker, Cory Driggers, and Heath Wyroszick.

Super Team
by Juan Carpenter
Faster than a speeding bullet, more powerful than a locomotive, able to leap tall buildings in a single bound are just a few ways of describing the Elba Tiger Basketball team. Elba began the season by steam rolling over four area opponents to start with a 4-0 record. The scoring attack is led by talented Benmie "Rice" Daniels and in the backcourt with him is defensive specialist Ronald McKinnon. Up front are three juniors. Alex Curry "Most" Jones is the leader in the middle along with "Mr. Rebound" Terry Goosby and closing out the list of starters is Dee Miller, who can also play the inside well. Don't just think they are the only ones that can play, because Coach Kennedy has a very strong bench. To chip in from the bench is senior David "Gently" Rowe who can start if needed. Also Nick and Tim Whitfield contribute a lot to the team. Chad Dawkins and Gary Ware help the Tigers at Guard. The only sophomore on the team is Alex Magwood, who contributes a lot at center.

HELLO
There are 56 telephones per 100 people in the United States. Washington, D.C. has 130 phones per 100 people. We make 188 billion calls per year.

CALLING ALL (205)'s

(205). It's the area code for Alabama, and starting January 13, you'll need it when you call anywhere in the state. ☺ That means if you're calling your daddy in Dothan or an aunt in Andalusia, it's (205) plus the seven-digit number. ☺ We're doing all this because Alabama is experiencing a boom, and while growth is good news for everybody, it means that a million new numbers will be added for greater opportunities. ☺ And one more thing. Don't forget to reprogram your speed dialing, computer modems, fax machines, call forwarding, burglar and fire auto dialers, PABX and key telephone systems. ☺ So starting January 13, dial (205) plus the seven-digit number.

Students Study Journalism

by Donna Jacobs
Business Communications, a class taught by Mrs. Rachel Bryan, has been studying yearbook journalism. The students are studying and using the Herff-Jones yearbook workbooks.
One main topic the students are learning is layout design. A layout is the arrangement of pictures, type, artwork, and white space on a double page spread. The good layout is simple, easy to read, and pleasant to look at. Creating odd shaped pictures is one thing that can make a layout design bad, for it draws attention away from the dominant picture.
Some other things the students will be learning are photography, cropping, writing body copy, fitting type and headlines, and writing captions, to name a few.
There are thirteen experienced members and nine new staff members. The first deadline is the color deadline and it is February 1, and if this deadline is missed there will be a money penalty.

New Building On Z. C.'s Campus Nearing Completion

by LeAnn Hinton
Mr. Harold Stewart, Mrs. Joan Hobbs, Mrs. Jackie Inright, and Mrs. Anita Grant are Zion Chapel teachers who most eagerly await the completion of the newest building on campus. They will move into the building when the teachers who will occupy the building.
This new building will house Vocational Agri-Business, Vocational Home Economics, and both Life and Science. When completed the classrooms will be fully equipped with the latest technology for each field.
The Home Economics Department, under the supervision of Mrs. Joan Hobbs, will have a living room, a kitchen, a sewing room, and a classroom. Mrs. Hobbs will also have an office.

Mr. Harold Stewart, Agri-Business instructor, will also have an office. He will have a classroom and an inside shop area as well as an outside shop area. The outside shop area will have space for welding equipment.
The rest of the building will be classrooms for the Science Department. Mrs. Jackie Inright will have a lab equipped for teaching the life sciences. Mrs. Anita Grant will have a combination Physics and Chemistry lab that is also equipped as a classroom.
Coffee County Superintendent Clayton Bryant and Zion Chapel Principal Nelson Whitehurst anticipate that the building will be ready to occupy within the next two months.

Z. C. Physics Class Studies Force

by Donna Holcomb
The Physics class at Zion Chapel High School recently performed a lab dealing with force and acceleration. The students first loaded a dynamics cart with 50 grams, 100 grams, and 200 grams of weight. Dynamic carts are carts that have metal wheels, therefore, they cause no friction. A string with a paper clip tied to the end was then attached to the cart and over a pulley. On the other end of the cart was paper tape that was run through a carbon paper tape unit. The friction force acting on the cart was offset. This weight remained on the clip throughout the entire experiment to act as a counterweight.
During the first timing 50 grams was removed from the cart and placed on the paper clip at the other end. Then the timer was started while the cart was released. Both were then stopped when the 50 grams reached the end of the timer tape was then labeled. This was done the same way with different weights several times.
After completing each timing the students were required to make a speed versus time graph using their results. They were then asked to determine the slope of each timing which would be the acceleration. With this information they had to plot an acceleration versus force graph.
This experiment showed the students a first hand look at Newton's first law of motion. Newton's first law of motion states that when no external force is acting on an object it will either remain at rest or if it is moving, it will continue to move in a straight line at a constant speed. The second law states that if an unbalanced force does act on an object, the object will undergo an acceleration directly proportional to the magnitude of the force. Both of these laws were used during the experiment.

Carnley Wins 2nd Place In Cooking Contest

by Denise Flowers
Sandra Carnley, a junior at Zion Chapel, recently won second place in the annual Peanut Recipe Contest with a Peanut Chicken Casserole. The contest is sponsored by the Alabama Association for Future Homemakers of America (FHA). The event was held in the Home Economics Department of the Coffee County Area Vocational School in New Brockton.

The ingredients used to make the recipe are 4 chicken breasts, 1 package of frozen broccoli, 1 cup of cooked rice, 1/2 cup of cheddar cheese - grated, salt and pepper to taste, 1 can of cream of mushroom soup, 1 can of cream of chicken soup, 1/2 cup of chicken broth, 1/4 cup celery-chopped, 1 cup cheddar cheese-grated, 1/2 cup peanuts-chopped, and 1 slice of lemon.

The steps for putting the casserole together are as follows: 1) Boil chicken until tender and debone. 2) Cook broccoli, drain and chop into pieces. 3) Place rice in a 2 quart casserole dish; layer broccoli, mushrooms, 1/2 cup cheese, and chicken on over the rice. Add salt and pepper and set aside. 4) Mix soups, chicken broth, celery, bell pepper, and onion. 5) Spread soup mixture over layered ingredients in casserole dish. 6) Bake for 30 minutes at 350 degrees. 7) Remove from oven and sprinkle cheese and peanuts on top. 8) Bake an additional 30 minutes. 9) Garnish with a slice of lemon.

Seniors Finish Term Papers

by Stephanie Adkinson
Seniors can now give a big sigh of relief because term papers are finished. The seniors to research were: "The Japanese Economy", "The Constitution of Free Enterprise", "Economic Implications of the Stock Market Crash of 1929", and "How to Obtain a Patent".

The students were allowed to turn their papers in as many times as they needed before the final due date, with the understanding that Mrs. Shaw would review them and correct their mistakes. Some students took advantage of this extra effort shown by Mrs. Shaw.
Mrs. Shaw said that after completing this project in the MLA format, the seniors were ready to tackle any freshman English class in the state. "Research was introduced by first assigning a poetry explanation where students were required to explain a poem by using their ideas reinforced by two outside sources," stated Mrs. Shaw.
Mrs. Shaw took pleasure in saying that the grades this year ranged from very high A's to just a couple of D's. Overall the A-B end of the scale was most heavily weighted.

FFA Holds Holiday Meeting

by Jason McLeod
The Zion Chapel Future Farmers of America (FFA) recently held its monthly meeting. The chapter made the meeting into a Christmas party. The group had cake, chips, dip, sandwiches, and cookies for their holiday treat.
The opening ceremony of all FFA meetings begins with the vice-president asking the officers their duties while the officers stand under the symbol of higher office. The ceremony begins with the Sentinel who is stationed by the door. The Sentinel welcomes members and cares for the meeting room. The American farmer meeting, the officers presented Mr. Harold Stewart and Mrs. Joann Stewart with their Christmas gifts. They are big Auburn fans, so they were given Auburn sweat shirts.
At the end of the December meeting, the officers presented Mr. Harold Stewart and Mrs. Joann Stewart with their Christmas gifts. They are big Auburn fans, so they were given Auburn sweat shirts.

THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz

I took off the entire week after Christmas to spend a little time with the family and then was also off on New Year's Day, which meant that counting weekends, I only worked one day during an 11-day span. I guess I'd better remember it for a while, however, because this week youth basketball starts and that means that for the next six weeks my work week will start on Monday and not end until late Saturday afternoon. Oh well, it was fun while it lasted!

ELBA TIGERS IMPROVE TO 8-3 WITH WIN OVER ENTERPRISE

The Elba Tigers struggled to a 2-3 record over the holidays, with all three losses coming to 6A teams, but got back in the swing in a hurry last week as they hosted the 6A Enterprise Wildcats and outscored the highly-touted Wildcats 80-73 to improve their record for the season to 8-3.

The game against Enterprise matched up two teams that both liked to press on defense and run whenever possible, and the large crowd on hand got more than its money's worth as both teams did what they do best and the Tigers did it just a little better and claimed the win.

You can't begin discussing the big win without starting off with Bennie Daniels, who poured in 45 points to lead the Tigers to the victory. Daniels scored 13 points in the first quarter to keep the Tigers close, added 9 points in the second stanza to spark a rally and then added 14 points in the third quarter before adding 9 points in the final stanza, many coming late when Enterprise rallied to make a game of it. Daniels hit three-pointers, driving layups, jumpers and free-throws, not to mention a dunk on a layup that brought the Elba fans out of their seats. Daniels isn't a ball hog that shoots every time he touches the ball, he passes to the open man and leads the team in assists, as well as being one of the teams top rebounders. The Tigers aren't a one-man show, but they do have one man that is a show!

The win over Enterprise proved that the tough holiday schedule did nothing but help the Tigers get ready for the remainder of the schedule. Playing 4A, 5A and 6A teams may not be an easy way to improve on a team's record; however, it does make the team realize its potential and gets a team ready for tough games. The Tigers learned their lessons well over the holidays and are now ready for the big test...the regular season run for the Area title and a shot at state!

COUNTY TEAMS FALL QUICKLY AT SEAC TOURNAMENT

The Southeast Alabama Conference tournament used to be an annual shoot-out between New Brockton and Kinston, then turned into a Brantley-New Brockton battle. It got to the point that fans would wait until the finals to go out and see which local team would bring home the trophies. If those fans waited until the finals to watch any action this year they got a shock, because all three county teams fell in the opening round. Here's a look back at a disappointing week.

NEW BROCKTON saw its losing streak reach three games with a surprising loss to Goshen. The Gamecocks ran off four straight wins to open the year, but have now watched their record dip to 4-3 and many local fans are wondering what is going on. Well, the Gamecocks are definitely not the powerhouse they once were; however, they aren't that bad either. Look for New Brockton to get hot soon and start piling up the wins.

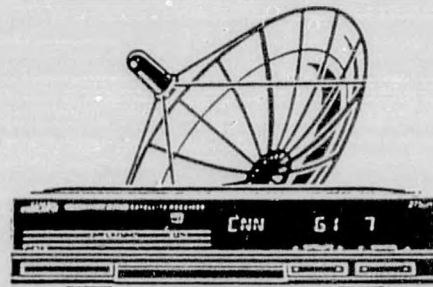

KINSTON lost a tough battle to eventual-winner Dozier and in the process saw its state dip to 4-7 on the year. The Bulldogs put on a show against the talented Tigers, especially Roger Smith, who nailed 7 three-pointers, but in the end Dozier just had too much for the Dogs to handle. Kinston will get better as the season goes and will always provide a stern test, no matter who it plays; however, a winning season may be hard to come by.

ZION CHAPEL fell to 2-5 with a loss to Brantley, but despite losing, continued to look much improved over early season performances. The Rebels don't have any stars and don't have the big men inside to hit the boards, but the Rebels do have heart and determination and will surprise some folks before the season winds down.

Tigers outscore Enterprise 80-73

The Elba Tigers used an 11-0 run early in the second quarter to take command and never looked back Friday night as they stunned the Enterprise Wildcats 80-73, at the Enterprise State Junior College gym.

The win upped the Tigers record to 8-3, while 6A Enterprise fell to 5-5 with the loss.

The Wildcats opened the game with their offense in full gear and grabbed a quick 8-2 lead before the Tigers could catch their breath and rally to pull even at 8-8 on a jumper by Bennie Daniels with 4:05 left in the stanza.

Elba finished off a 12-2 run on a basket by Daniels with 2:59 left to give the Tigers a 14-10 bulge; however, this time it was Enterprise that rallied and moved on to 22-19 by the end of the quarter.

Elba came out in a full-court press in the second quarter and took advantage of its quickness and the hot shooting of Bennie Daniels to go on an 11-0 run that wiped out the Enterprise lead and gave the Tigers a big 30-22 bulge with 4:54 left in the half.

The Tigers extended their lead to 40-27 on a short jumper by Dee Miller with 2:32 left in the quarter and turned back the play of Marcus Tyson and by the end of the first half owned a big 35-25 advantage.

Enterprise cut the lead to 50-44 by the end of the third quarter; however, the Tigers hit 13 of 17 free-throws in the final stanza to hold on for the win.

Ronald Thigpen scored 21 points to lead Elba, while Marcus Tyson added 19 and Marzine McMillan scored 12. Byron Taylor scored 16 for Enterprise and Tavian Smith added 15.

Elba (69): Tyson 19, R. Thigpen 21, C. Thigpen 8, Donaldson 9, McMillan 12.

Enterprise (64): Smith 15, Caylor 16, Morgan 9, Sauer 12, Mitchell 8, Moon 2, Brooks 2.

The Tigers opened the final stanza with a 7-0 run that gave Elba a 70-53 lead with 5:43 left in the game and it looked like the Tigers would blow their 6A neighbors off the court; however, the Wildcats switched to a sticky full-court press on defense and took advantage of shaky ball-handling by the Tigers to chop the lead to 75-69 with 3:01 left.

The Hawks claimed the 10 and Under championship a year ago under the direction of Coach Jimmy Dubose and it looks like the Hawks will be one of the top teams, led by Jake Cowen, Brad Holley, Derrick Thigpen and Daniel Murdock.

The Bulls struggled to an 0-6 record a year ago, but Coach Bobby Gully has a talented squad this season and led by Eric Jordan, O'Shay Hammonds, Derek Marler and Brian Luckett, should find the win column open.

Up in the 12 and Under Division, the Nets, coached by Merrill Shirley, claimed the league title a year ago and appear to be ready to challenge again behind the play of Griffin Shirley, D'Lindray Peterson, Doug Marler and Josh Mack.

The Pistons placed second last season; however, Coach Terry Burks has a talented squad and with such players as Jarrell Smedley, Leray Smedley, Jamie Holley, Paul Marsh and Neil Tillis, should be a title contender.

The Bucks of Coach John Larry Gilbert came in with a 3-3 state year ago and should once again be a team to watch, led by Marcus Siler, John Dubose, Johnny Coleman and Sterling Jones.

The Lakers came on strong late in the season last year and this year, led by Coach James Simmons, appear ready to go with such players as Jody Johnson, Troy Bryan, Trae Bryan and Marcus Tillis.

There is no admission charge to the game and everyone is invited out to watch the youth in action!

Elba's Bennie Daniels (4) lays in a two-point during holiday action. Daniels scored 45 points Friday night to spark the Tigers to an 80-73 win over Enterprise.

Youth basketball season to begin Saturday

The Elba Department of Parks and Recreation will begin its 1991 "Youth Basketball League" season Saturday afternoon, with four games on tap at the Westside Baptist Church Multi-Purpose Building.

The season will begin at 1:00 with 10 and Under action as the Hawks meet the Spurs, to be followed at 2:00 by a matchup between the Bulls and Celtics. The 12 and Under Division will swing into action at 3:00 when the Pistons, tangled with the Bucks, while the final game of the day, at 4:00, will see the Lakers against the Nets.

The Hawks claimed the 10 and Under championship a year ago under the direction of Coach Jimmy Dubose and it looks like the Hawks will be one of the top teams, led by Jake Cowen, Brad Holley, Derrick Thigpen and Daniel Murdock.

THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz

I took off the entire week after Christmas to spend a little time with the family and then was also off on New Year's Day, which meant that counting weekends, I only worked one day during an 11-day span. I guess I'd better remember it for a while, however, because this week youth basketball starts and that means that for the next six weeks my work week will start on Monday and not end until late Saturday afternoon. Oh well, it was fun while it lasted!

ELBA TIGERS IMPROVE TO 8-3 WITH WIN OVER ENTERPRISE

The Elba Tigers struggled to a 2-3 record over the holidays, with all three losses coming to 6A teams, but got back in the swing in a hurry last week as they hosted the 6A Enterprise Wildcats and outscored the highly-touted Wildcats 80-73 to improve their record for the season to 8-3.

The game against Enterprise matched up two teams that both liked to press on defense and run whenever possible, and the large crowd on hand got more than its money's worth as both teams did what they do best and the Tigers did it just a little better and claimed the win.

You can't begin discussing the big win without starting off with Bennie Daniels, who poured in 45 points to lead the Tigers to the victory. Daniels scored 13 points in the first quarter to keep the Tigers close, added 9 points in the second stanza to spark a rally and then added 14 points in the third quarter before adding 9 points in the final stanza, many coming late when Enterprise rallied to make a game of it. Daniels hit three-pointers, driving layups, jumpers and free-throws, not to mention a dunk on a layup that brought the Elba fans out of their seats. Daniels isn't a ball hog that shoots every time he touches the ball, he passes to the open man and leads the team in assists, as well as being one of the teams top rebounders. The Tigers aren't a one-man show, but they do have one man that is a show!

The win over Enterprise proved that the tough holiday schedule did nothing but help the Tigers get ready for the remainder of the schedule. Playing 4A, 5A and 6A teams may not be an easy way to improve on a team's record; however, it does make the team realize its potential and gets a team ready for tough games. The Tigers learned their lessons well over the holidays and are now ready for the big test...the regular season run for the Area title and a shot at state!

In my distress I cried unto the Lord, and he heard me. Deliver my soul, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue.

What shall he given unto thee? Or what shall be done unto thee, thou false tongue?

Sharp arrows of the mighty, with chisel of juniper.

Woe is me, that I sojourn in Kadesh, that I lived in the tents of Kadesh.

My soul hath long dwelt with him that hath peace.

I am for peace: but when I speak, they are for war.

Happy 66 Birthday

A surprise birthday party was given honoring Grover Belcher, Sr. December 29, 1990 in the home of Virginia Street, Enterprise, Alabama.

Reminiscing about Belcher's birthday dinner and retirement program in 1989 was a lot of fun.

Those attending were: Otis Johnson, Joyce and Kathy, Tusculum; Warren and Don Belcher, Kessler AFB; Mrs. Tonya Smith, Emosine Kelly, Melissa, Jana, Curtis, Wesley, Maria, Brandi, Brandon, Tiffany, Tyrone, Kimberly, Evelyn, Guley, Mason and Jason, Lavonne Jones, Patti Porter, Roderick Rideaux, all of Elba, Wiley Brooks, Juanita, Dee and Re-nita, Enterprise, Alabama, Grover and Eria Belcher, Elba.

Sweet potatoes were unknown in Europe until Columbus found them in the West Indies and took them back with him. They have turned into one of the world's cheapest food crops.

The traditional happy birthday song was sung and an abundance of food and punch was served. The birthday cake was the center of attraction!

Those hosting the party were Joyce, Ernestine, Alan, Warren, Evelyn and Juanita (6 of his 9 grandchildren).

Grover Belcher, Sr.
Happy 66 Birthday

Reminiscing about Belcher's birthday dinner and retirement program in 1989 was a lot of fun.

Those attending were: Otis Johnson, Joyce and Kathy, Tusculum; Warren and Don Belcher, Kessler AFB; Mrs. Tonya Smith, Emosine Kelly, Melissa, Jana, Curtis, Wesley, Maria, Brandi, Brandon, Tiffany, Tyrone, Kimberly, Evelyn, Guley, Mason and Jason, Lavonne Jones, Patti Porter, Roderick Rideaux, all of Elba, Wiley Brooks, Juanita, Dee and Re-nita, Enterprise, Alabama, Grover and Eria Belcher, Elba.

Sweet potatoes were unknown in Europe until Columbus found them in the West Indies and took them back with him. They have turned into one of the world's cheapest food crops.

The traditional happy birthday song was sung and an abundance of food and punch was served. The birthday cake was the center of attraction!

Those hosting the party were Joyce, Ernestine, Alan, Warren, Evelyn and Juanita (6 of his 9 grandchildren).

Woe is me, that I sojourn in Kadesh, that I lived in the tents of Kadesh.

BLUEBIRD WORKSHOP
A bluebird workshop will be presented by Gerald Hartley, who I believe to be the bluebird expert in our county, and sponsored by the Coffee County Extension Service. This will be at the Farm Center in New Brockton on January 28 from 6:00 until 8:30 p.m. There will be a presentation on the preservation and conservation of Eastern Bluebirds and then we will be constructing a bird house. This program is being planned for 4-H youth and their parents. However, if other people are interested, you are welcome to attend. There is a $3.00 charge for each bird house.

RYE AS A PEANUT ROTATION
There are at least 10 different crops being studied for their use in rotations for the control of nematodes in peanuts. These crops are cotton, corn, hairy indigo, sesame, castor bean, velvet bean, American joint vetch, partridge pea and bahiagrass. In all of these tests, regardless of which crop was used, when rye was used as a winter cover crop, the rye improved the response measured by the rotation. Of course, when you add a cover such as rye, you are adding far more benefits to your peanuts than just nematode control. Whatever your rotation is, you can almost always benefit from a winter crop added to that rotation.

WILDLIFE COOKBOOK AVAILABLE
If you plan to be cooking wildgame, then you'll need a copy of the "Wildgame Cookbook", just released by the Alabama Cooperative Extension Service. The cookbook will tell you everything you'll need to know about dressing and cooking game meat. Some specials are rattlesnake, opossum, and armadillo. You can obtain a copy of the Wildgame Cookbook from our office. The cost is $4.00.

David Eaddy (right), Coffee County Executive Director of Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), presented to Jessie Anderson (left), Chairman of the Coffee County Committee of ASCS, the Outstanding Service plaque. Anderson has served as a committee member and chair person for the last nine years, and has certainly served the Coffee County farming community well.

Be Better To Yourself

Angela G. Hughes - County Agent

It's the beginning of the new year. What better time to resolve to be better to yourself this year? Does that sound like self-indulgence? Stop and think about it for a minute. Who better than yourself can do something good for you? Someone once said if we wait for others to complement us or give us a pat on the back, it's often a long wait. You might be surprised at how much you can get done if you promise yourself a reward at the end, and rewarding yourself can make even the hardest task seem less difficult. The little rewards can make your day much nicer—something like saving thirty minutes of the day just for you, to read, enjoy a bubble bath, listen to music or exercise. Or maybe you need a day to treat yourself to an ice cream cone or buy that really great shirt you've been eyeing. If you're having a hectic day at the office, treat yourself to a quiet lunch. It's self-indulgent to believe that you don't deserve to do something nice for yourself. Doing something good for yourself can lift your spirits, improve your attitude, motivate you to get a job done and make you a nicer person to be around. You also contribute to your own happiness when you take time during the day to do something you really like. So, think about making that resolution—it's not hard to be better to yourself.

Goals For The Cow-Calf Producer

Stan Windham - Associate County Agent

I have said many times at various meetings with various groups and various individuals that I have had conversations with that the beef industry is growing faster in south Alabama than probably anywhere in the nation. I base this statement on the fact that nationwide, the southeast part of the United States has been shown to be growing in cattle numbers where in many parts of the nation they are declining. Here in Alabama the Wiregrass area is one of the fastest growing cattle areas in the nation. With these growing pains many times can also come some mismanagement. Cattlemen do not plan on this, but what generally happens is they are growing so fast and moving so quickly that they don't take time to sit down and really look at what their operation is doing and what the bottom line is. In the next few paragraphs I want to offer some goals to consider as you reflect on your operation here at the end of 1990.

I think a realistic goal for every cow-calf herd is to have one calf per cow per year. One of the easiest ways to do this is to have a short controlled breeding season of no more than 90 days. Then wean your calves in the five to eight-month range and rebreed your cows about the same time every year. You will be surprised at how close a well fed cow will calve to the same time each year. As for weaning weights go, I feel like a realistic 205 day weight for most cow/calf herds is $50 pounds. For those of you who have already passed this mark, I think your average 205 weight goal should be around 600 pounds. Another item to consider is cost of production. Based on my figures, I don't see how you can get by with less than 150 dollars a cow per year. But I would hate to see this figure go over $20 per cow. I have heard of cases going as high as $30 per cow. I think a realistic goal for every cow-calf producer is to have a situation such that you are having to spend more money or pay more money out. But I would like for you to consider this as it relates to your operation. At least as it relates to maximizing profits. Profits are directly proportional to the number of calves you have, their weaning weight and the price that you receive for them. In everyone of these areas is some measure of control. So, if your profits are slipping, particularly with the times we are in now with the high prices we are receiving for cattle, you need to look at these three areas. The number of calves that you are weaning is related to the number of cows in your herd, the weight at which you are weaning them and the price you are receiving for them. This is just some areas you can take a look at as it relates to your operation. If you have any questions give me a call at 894-5596.

How Small Is Small?

Dan Presley - County Agent Coordinator

HOW SMALL IS SMALL?
How big is an infinitesimal amount? It's hard to imagine what one part per million, billion, or trillion is. And that's how minute a measure can be taken with sophisticated devices such as a gas chromatograph/mass spectrometer, used to identify and measure low-level organics in pollutants and other compounds. As standards regarding contaminants become commonplace, an understanding of the size needs to be put in perspective. The following provides some comparisons:

1 part per million: 1 cent/1,000; 1 minute/2 years; 1 inch/16 miles
1 part per billion: 1 cent/100,000,000; 1 second/32 years; 1 inch/16,000 miles
1 part per trillion: 1 cent/100,000,000,000; 1 second/320 centuries; 1 inch/16,000,000 miles

FERTILIZING PECANS
Soil testing is the best way to find out how much fertilizer pecans need. There are six fertilized elements that pecans need most calcium, phosphorus, potassium, magnesium, nitrogen and zinc. Nitrogen is the element that supplies "grow power" to pecans. Each year of age of age of that tree up to 25-30 pounds per tree. For trees set out this year, split the nitrogen applications. Apply about a pound in April and again in June. Zinc is a very important element for pecans. Even when all other nutrients are present, the pecan production will be affected. To prevent zinc deficiency, apply 2-3 pounds of zinc sulfate every year. Put zinc in the fall, winter or early spring. Calcium and magnesium can be supplied by using dolomitic limestone. The soil test will tell you how much is needed to raise the pH to 6.5. The soil test will also tell you how much phosphorus and potassium is needed, if any. The best time to fertilize pecan trees is between February 1 and February 20. DORMANT SPRAYS
Now is an excellent time to apply dormant sprays to fruit and nut trees which have no leaves on them right now. Dormant sprays are essential to keep the trees healthy. Probably more backyard fruit trees are killed by pests that could have been controlled with dormant sprays than from any other cause. These sprays eliminate overwintering fungus spores and/or other fungus and bacterial pests. Dormant sprays before green tissue shows in the buds. Spray on days when the air temperature is above freezing, and no freeze is expected for several days. The liquid lime sulfur sprays can be used for most of your trees. If you want to make sure you get good results, apply two dormant sprays as outlined in "Spraying Home Orchards", Circular ANR-50. You can pick up a copy from the Extension office or call 894-5596 and ask us to mail it to you.

TENTATIVE DATE FOR CHANGEOVER IS JANUARY 27, 1991

Elba to resume control of hospital and nursing home

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

Papers were signed last week to allow the Elba Hospital Authority to move forward with terminating the lease and resuming control of the Elba General Hospital and Nursing Home.

The city-owned facility has been operated by National Health Care, a for-profit hospital management group, for about eight years. The return to public management of the hospital and nursing home is a friendly change, with both National and the local authority agreeing it is better for all concerned.

At a special meeting of the hospital authority, Chairman Drexel went over the details of the agreement with National Health Care, calling for the local group to resume operation of the hospital and nursing home.

The tentative date for the change is January 27 of this year. However it must first be approved by state and federal regulatory agencies.

Ellen Peterson, who will serve as administrator for the facility after the changeover, said to expect approval within two or three weeks. She told board members the new management staff members have been in constant contact with these regulatory groups and all are fully aware of the details of the proposal.

Peterson has been at the hospital several weeks and is ready to install the bookkeeping on the new computer and get the computer ready to take over business the day of the changeover.

Tim Johnson has been hired as comptroller and is already working also, according to Cox.

Dr. Donald Crook has agreed to serve as Physician Administrative Consultant for the authority. Crook and Peterson have already been to Birmingham working to get additional doctors to serve the Elba medical needs.

Chairman Crook said the authority is lucky to have these local people who are well qualified in their specialties and who are willing to work in the local health care environment.

Cook said, "We (the hospital authority) are taking a risk and we wouldn't do it if we didn't have the support of the mayor and council nor if we didn't feel we had something better to offer citizens in this area."

Elba Mayor Fred Moore was present for the signing of the changeover papers and said, "We are taking a big step forward and if the city council and I didn't feel we could improve things, we wouldn't approve of your taking over the health facilities. If we didn't feel Elba needed and desired a better service we wouldn't even consider this change. What I, and the council, want to see is a hospital operating in the most economical way and at the same time improved services."

Peterson told board members the 12 additional nursing home beds should be operational within 60 to 90 days after the changeover. She said the state regulatory people have been in the facility and noted it must have a sprinkler system installed before being put into use. She said that would be the only big expense necessary to get the South wing of the hospital converted to nursing home beds.

Peterson then told board members, "I am honored to be working with you. I am confident we will have a hospital you will be proud of and will not hesitate to use for your medical needs."

City council votes to sell surplus property

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

The Elba City Council will be selling three pieces of property deemed surplus in action Monday night.

The council passed motions to handle the legal paperwork to sell the former library site and two vacant pieces of property at the intersection of Taylor Mill Road and Tucker Street.

The library was located in a building formerly used by Dr. John Kimmy as his clinic. Upon his retirement, Dr. Kimmy sold the property to the city, which at that time was searching for a library location.

Present plans call for construction of a new building for the city library across from the police station on the site of the two story building which once housed city hall downstairs and the Masonic Hall upstairs. The tentative plans are to purchase the property between this site and the fire department (known as the W. H. Taylor home) and build a building for the rescue squad here, keeping the five days to do something with the vehicle before further action is taken.

The meeting ended on a sober note as Moore noted the country may be in war at any time and "We need to think about how it would affect us". He continued with, "We need to make plans" and gave as examples the possible big jump in gasoline prices. He also told council members a total mobilization of reserve forces would get five officers from the police department.

council members that such action be studied.

In other business the council approved a resolution requesting an additional community development grant (CDBG) to hire a contractor to complete the drainage project before the March flood. Mayor Fred Moore explained city employees don't now have the time to do the work and it needs to be completed.

The City plans to hold a surplus sale in March to dispose of equipment that has been replaced or is no longer needed.

Police Chief Freddie Haney reported that since the last meeting the department has answered 292 complaints. This includes nine traffic accidents. There were 42 citations issued including five for DUI. There were also nine criminal arrests.

The annual control officer roundup 25 dogs. One of those was returned to the owner and one was sold.

Haney also told council members that 20 abandoned vehicles had been tagged for removal and the owners notified. He said they then have five days to do something with the vehicle before further action is taken.

Coffee County Commission conducts routine meeting

by Marvin McIlwain
Elba Clipper Editor

The Coffee County Commission's meeting produced no earth shattering news, but was pleasantly routine.

Meeting in Elba Monday morning, the commissioners awarded bids, approved road repair projects, okayed sending out bids, voted to hire themselves a lawyer and finally signed bills.

Joe Money Equipment Company was awarded the bid for supplying the county highway department with amount of $72,000 will pay the remainder of the cost.

State bids on gasoline have been abandoned and Pool asked for and got approval to obtain "telephone bids" until the state once again reinstates their bidding procedures.

County Administrator Wilson Mobley informed the commission that it would be legal for the county to pay for the schooling and materials for employees wishing to obtain commercial driver's license, but the license would have to be paid for by the employee.

Commission Chairman Billy Egerton made the motion to hire attorney Garth Lindsey to defend the commissioners in the Ellises' $20 these bids exposed.

A motion requiring a permit to be obtained by anyone performing work on county road right-of-ways was passed by the commissioners.

Pool informed the commissioners that the project agreement on system roads had been received and needed their signature. This agreement includes more than 200 flood damaged sites upon which an agreement for repair costs has been reached since June 15th. Total cost of the project is $305,000. Federal funding will account for $233,000 of the cost and state funds in the amount of $72,000 will pay the remainder of the cost.
